

Scintillation Vials

Figure 1 Scintillation vials in the various stages of recycling. The first vial is empty. The second contains one smear, the third, two and the forth contains three and is ready for disposal.

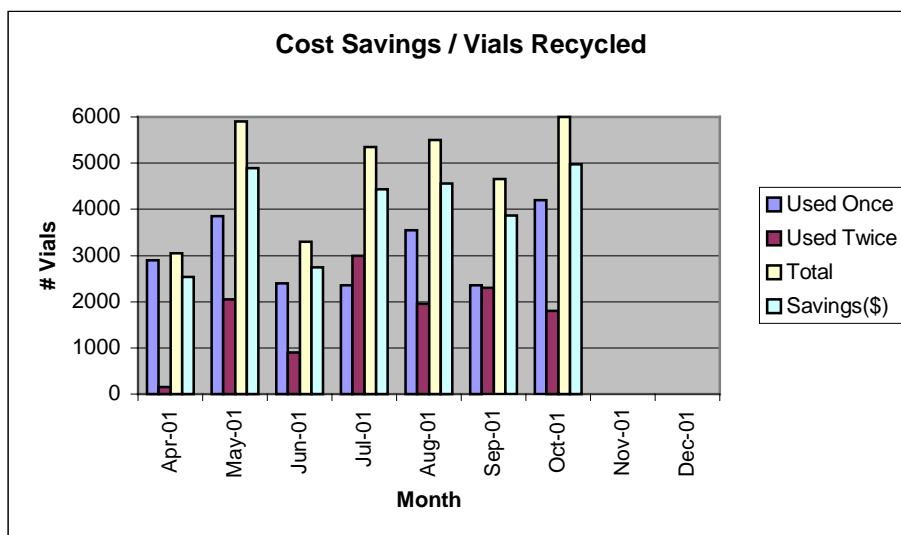

Figure 2

Innovative Re-use: SNL's Scintillation Vials
Sandia National Laboratories' Nomination for 2002 P2 Awards
Return-on-Investment Category

Recycling Process For Scintillation Vials

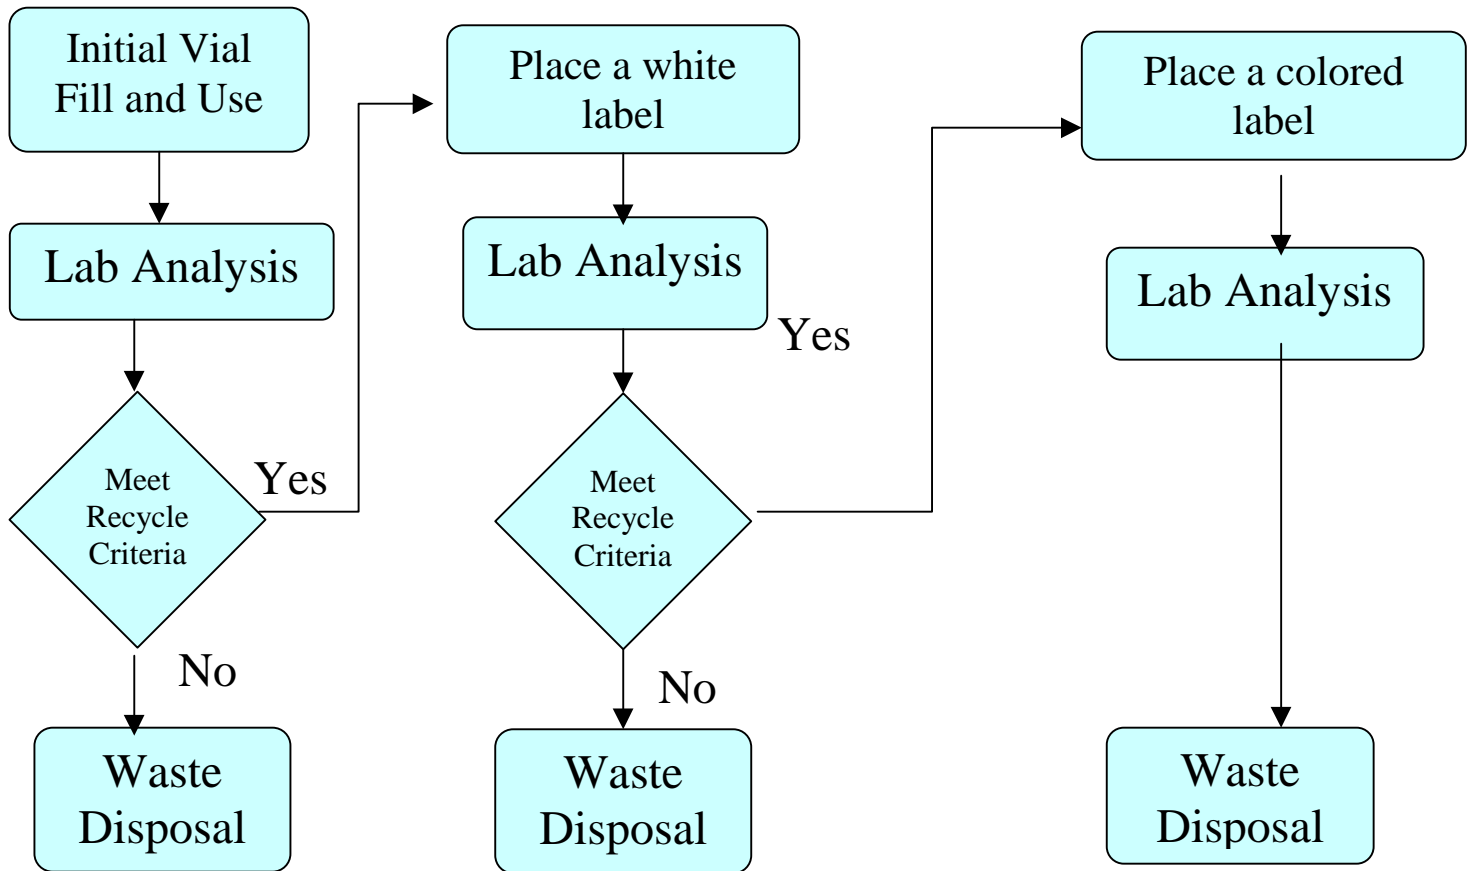

Figure 3 This flow chart describes the decision-making process that is used to determine if used vials can be recycled.